

PRESS RELEASE

Berlin, 02nd October 2007

Fidelity International Limited is a new major shareholder of Solarvalue AG

More than 35 percent of shares are held by institutional investors

The number of Solarvalue listed shares now stands at 1,050,000

The shares not bought by shareholders during the subscription period were sold to institutional investors at the end of August, at a fixed price of 64 Euros per share. The most important subscriber was Fidelity International Limited, who now holds almost 10 percent of shares in Solarvalue AG. With over 4,000 employees in 23 countries and managed assets of almost 280 million US dollars, the UK-based Fidelity International Limited is one of the largest investment companies in the world.

Following the quotation of 210,000 new shares ensuing from Solarvalue AG's increase in capital, a total of 1,050,000 shares are now registered for trading.

Claudia Boehringer, CEO of Solarvalue AG: "After Gartmore, Fidelity is another important global investor whom we have been able to attract as a shareholder, a fact we are particularly pleased about. In total, the proportion of Solarvalue shares held by institutional investors has risen from just under 20 percent to now more than 35 percent as a result of the successful capital increase. Next to Solarvalue Holding GmbH, our largest shareholder, we have a stable and international shareholder structure, with medium and long-term investors situated mainly in the UK, the USA, Germany and France."
